Railroad crossing repairs planned on U.S. 183

U.S. 183 (Niles Avenue) in the city of Kinsley is scheduled to be down to one lane for railroad crossing repairs April 23 and 24.

Burlington Northern Santa Fe will be working on railroad crossings between the junction of U.S. 183 and U.S. 56 and Fourth Avenue.

The repairs will be done to one half of the crossing each day and only during daylight orders. Traffic on U.S. 183 will be carried through the project and controlled by flaggers. Lane width will be reduced to 12 feet, and oversized loads should find alternate routes during the project.

KDOT urges all motorists to be alert, obey warning signs and "Give 'Em a Brake!" when approaching and driving through a highway work zone.
