Cedar Bluff bridge reopened in Trego County

The new Cedar Bluff reservoir bridge on K-147 in Trego County is now open to through traffic.

The original structure, which was completed in the early 1950s, was closed in June 2019 by the Kansas Department of Transportation because of safety concerns about its structural deficiencies.

Work on the $2.2 million replacement project began in February with Wildcat Construction of Wichita as the primary contractor.
