KDOT to unveil Kansas Aviation Portal

The Kansas Department of Transportation Aviation Division will be at Kansas State University-Salina on Friday, April 10, to announce the new Kansas Aviation Portal.

Time: 10 a.m., Friday, April 10

Location: Kansas State University-Salina, 2310 Centennial Road, in the welcome center building.

The Kansas Aviation Portal will educate about all facets of aviation, including economic impacts, system plans and pavement conditions. It also improves upon the nation's first Airspace Awareness Tool, which was designed specifically to increase the awareness of airspace around Kansas airports and was released in 2011.
