NE Kansas Students Know How Important it is to “Put the Brakes on Fatalities”

Thirteen-year-old Alexys Wemhoff of Topeka is one of three northeast Kansas regional winners in the 2014 Put the Brakes on Fatalities Day poster contest. As a regional winner, Alexys received a bicycle and a bicycle helmet donated by Safe Kids Kansas at an afternoon school assembly presentation today at Chase Middle School, 2250 NE State Street in Topeka (Shawnee County).

A total of 1,344 poster contest entries were received from across Kansas with 18 students receiving regional honors and three students receiving statewide honors. The poster contest helps bring awareness to all ages for the need to reduce fatalities on our nation’s highways. Numerous transportation organizations across the state sponsor this annual event. A copy of Alexys’ winning poster is included below.

The two additional regional poster contest winners in northeast Kansas include Casen Dalinghaus, 7, Axtell Elementary School in Axtell (Marshall County), and Ashley Ortiz-Vizueth, 10, Whitson Elementary School in Topeka (Shawnee County).
