Westbound I-70 Pavement Replacement Project Now Complete

By late afternoon on Thursday, August 26, crews will remove the remaining construction signs and all lanes of westbound I-70 from 94th Street to 110th Street will reopen to traffic as the I-70 pavement replacement project is now complete in Wyandotte County. Crews still have some clean up and finishing work on the project, but this work will not result in any additional lane closures.

During the project’s 2010 construction season, crews replaced all roadway pavement on the westbound I-70 mainline lanes and associated ramps at the I-70 and I-435 interchange. Construction work on the eastbound I-70 lanes was completed in November 2009.

J.M. Fahey Construction is the primary contractor on this 2-year $4.6 million pavement replacement project.
